The Pet-A-Pet Gazette

A Publication of The Pet-A-Pet Club, Inc.

This year the Pet-A-Pet Club is celebrating 40 years of service!

Celebrating
40 years!
1986 - 2026

Ruth Curry

It began with an amazing woman's dedication. Ruth Curry started it all back in 1985 by taking rescue animals awaiting adoption to visit a local nursing home. A year later, her wish to expand the group came true. Ruth gathered a few volunteers, and with donations from local businesses, she applied for a nonprofit status and Pet-A-Pet Club Inc. was formed! The Club continued to grow from a handful of facilities to over 70 in the Metro Detroit Area. Sadly, Ruth passed away in 2011. She was truly proud of this organization and is greatly missed. Ruth would be honored to know we are carrying on her legacy.

We would like to celebrate this milestone with our members, who have made this achievement possible. Maybe a picnic or other get-together (with or without dogs). If you're interested in participating, please send your ideas on what type of event you'd like to attend and location suggestions.

Happy New Year!

Thanks to everyone for all the great content submitted to this issue. Please send anything you'd like to share in the next newsletter (photos, memorials, etc.) to petapetnewsletter@gmail.com. The plan is to share another issue in May, so please keep sending!

The requests keep coming, and the waiting list is in this issue, in case anyone can add a location to their schedule. The website will be updated shortly to reflect the new locations.

Thanks for brightening someone's day!

Reading With Dogs

Reading to dogs is a heartwarming and effective way for children to build confidence in their reading skills while enjoying a unique and supportive environment. Calm, trained dogs make perfect, nonjudgmental listeners.

Please see info about the PAWS for Reading program at the Clinton-Macomb Library in this issue.

A Reading With Dogs event will take place in March in Garden City. If you would like to participate, please contact Pat Glinski 313-414-6336 for details.

Coordinators & Volunteers Needed

Let's brighten more days!

Please consider volunteering at another location or even becoming a coordinator at a facility of your own. There are many facilities in need of coordinators and volunteers. Requests come in regularly.

Do you have friends with friendly pets? Please tell them about the Pet-A-Pet Club.

If you are interested in coordinating visits with any of these locations, please contact Lisa or Dave Volker. See the Coordinator Corner for their contact information.

Pet-A-Pet Flyers

While shopping for a Subaru, I met a couple of ladies, Samantha (she works there) and her mother with their sweet golden retrievers who were in the lounge. Of course, I asked if they might want to volunteer with Pet a Pet. Samantha knew about Pet a Pet and may join. She suggested that we put up a flyer because "Subaru owners are dog lovers!" If you would like a copy of this flyer showing your location- let us know!

We are looking for more members !

If you have an obedience-trained, dog-friendly dog and an hour to visit with residents, let us know.

There are so many requests coming in and we would love to have the Dog Power to share smiles & wagging tails!

AKC Therapy Dog Titles

Pet-A-Pet is approved as an organization whose members can apply for the AKC Therapy Dog title. The purpose of this program is to recognize AKC dogs and their owners who have given their time and helped people by volunteering as a therapy dog and owner team. The AKC Therapy Dog title (ThD) can be earned by dogs who have been certified by AKC recognized therapy dog organizations.

All dogs are eligible to earn the AKC Therapy Dog title, including purebreds and mixed breeds. To earn the AKC Therapy Dog title, dogs must be registered or listed with AKC and have a number in order to earn a title.

To earn the AKC Therapy Dog™ title, you and your dog must meet the following criteria:

1. The dog must be registered or listed with AKC.
2. Certified or registered by an AKC recognized national therapy dog organization.
3. Perform a minimum of 50 visits. (Novice title is available for 10 visits.)

Visits must be documented with time, date, location, and a signature of a staff person at the facility (e.g., school, hospital, etc.).

Volunteers are solely responsible for documentation of visits, registration with AKC and therapy organization and submission of application and fees to AKC.

The Pet-A-Pet Club does not provide certification for therapy dogs.

Fun Ways to Keep Your Dog Entertained Indoors When It's Freezing Outside

Dogs have up to 300 million olfactory receptors compared to our relatively paltry six million. If inclement weather is keeping you indoors, these fun and easy scent-based games for dogs will keep your house-bound pup entertained!

Find the Food

This is a simple way to engage your dog's scenting prowess. It requires you to do nothing but place treats randomly around the home in the hopes that she will locate them by scent. Once she finds the first one (often by accident), she will quickly key into the possibility of finding others with her nose. Start by placing one or two treats down in full view, while she is out of the room. Then call her in. She will eat them happily and look for more. Repeat this process, but begin placing the treats in less obvious places; in a corner, just beneath a sofa or coffee table, or even partially beneath a doggie cushion. Place them while she is outside, or in another part of the home. Then simply let her find them on her own. You will soon see her scenting for them rather than looking for them. Vary placement and quantity; some days just hide one treat. Once she "gets it," vary the hidden item. Try hiding a food dispenser toy filled with treats. Hide a feather rubbed with cheese. Hide a frozen cube of meat or broth (on a plate of course!).

Pick the Hand

Here's a simple way to rev up your dog's nose. First, get some small tasty treats that will fit into your hand. A bit of turkey meat or cheese will work better than kibble because of the former's stronger aroma. Next, take one into your palm and make a loose, palm-down fist. Then, with your dog sitting in front of you, offer her that fist, and let her sniff. While doing so, say "Find it!" Once she has sniffed it, open your hand and offer the treat, saying, "Good find it!" Repeat this a few times. Then, add your other empty fist. Don't let her see which hand you place the treat into. Next, move your closed hands back and forth, then offer up both to her, saying "Find it!" When she sniffs at the treat hand, say, "Good find it!" and open your hand to give her the treat. Repeat this, alternating the hand in which you place the treat. As you continue, wait until you can see her nose really "alert" on the treat hand before opening up. The idea is to teach her that the location of treat varies and can be found only by scenting it out. Once she gets it, add a friend's two fists into the mix, making it doubly hard for her.

Shell Game

This game builds upon the "Pick The Hand" game. Get four sturdy, coffee cup-sized containers that she cannot break or easily knock over. Avoid glass or paper; glass could break and paper is too flimsy. With your dog sitting and watching, place a treat underneath one cup then move it back and forth. Then say, "Find it!" When she sniffs at it, lift the cup and say, "Good find it!" as she eats the treat. If she knocks the cup over, that's fine. Next, add a second cup. Place the treat then move the cups back and forth a bit. Say, "Find it!" and let her sniff each cup. Wait until she sniffs the right one before praising and lifting the cup. Repeat until she reliably picks the right cup. Then add a third cup, and repeat until she gets it on the first try every time. At that point, you'll know that she's using her nose and not random choice.

Hide & Seek

Here's one that uses you as the treat. While your dog is distracted somewhere in the home, hide in a closet, under a bed, or somewhere she wouldn't normally expect you to be. Then just wait. She will inevitably begin searching for you. Once she finds you, praise and reward! If you are in a closet and you hear her sniff at the door, you'll know she's doing what dogs have done for centuries.
